DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested: Suture band having a locking mechanism with wedging means.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 5 and 6 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend from any other multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 5 and 6 have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 2, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Golds (U.S. Patent 5,356,417).

- a. Concerning claim 1, Golds teaches a suture band device (10) comprising an elongated flexible band (12) having first and second ends, a needle (46) attached to the first end of the band, a buckle (14) attached proximate the second end of the band for receiving and locking the band

(see Abstract), characterized in that the buckle comprises a locking mechanism (16 and 18) which enables the band to be locked at any point along its length (col. 5, ll. 57-63; embodied by the strap tightened to desired tension and Fig. 1-4) and in that the locking mechanism comprises a wedging means (18).

b. Concerning claim 2, the locking mechanism substantially prevents retrograde movement of the band through the buckle (col. 5, ll. 67-68; embodied by teeth 28 preventing slippage of the strap in the housing).

c. Concerning claim 7, Golds teaches a method of approximating bone tissue comprising encircling said tissue with a suture band device as defined in paragraph 4(a) above, threading a buckle of the suture banding device with a band of the suture banding device, and constricting the device around the bone tissue (col. 5, ll. 43-68)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Golds (U.S. Patent 5,356,417) as applied to claim 1 or 2 above, and further in view of Chopp, Jr. et al. (U.S. Patent 4,399,592).

- d. Concerning claim 3, Golds teaches the claimed invention including a locking mechanism with a wedging means, but does not teach the wedging means having a substantially spherical or cylindrical body. Chopp, Jr. et al. teaches a device used to encircle and hold objects together, that includes a band 26 and a locking mechanism 24 with a wedging means 28 that is substantially spherical for lockingly engaging the strap (see Abstract). The claim would have been obvious because the substitution of one known element, namely the locking mechanism of Golds, for another, the locking mechanism of Chopp, Jr. et al., would have yielded predictable results to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention. The predictable results being to lockingly engage the strap.
- e. Concerning claim 4, the wedging means of Chopp, Jr. et al. includes a roughened surface (col. 3, ll. 15-17).

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
